POSTHORNSSNÄCKA

A detailed black and white line drawing of a snail, identified by the text as a Posthornsnäcka (Posthorn snail). The snail is positioned on a large, elongated leaf with prominent parallel veins. Its body is extended from its shell, which is a tightly coiled, spiral shell. The snail's head and antennae are visible. The text 'POSTHORNSSNÄCKA' is written vertically in a bold, sans-serif font across the middle of the illustration. In the upper right corner, there is a small, separate drawing of a snail's head and antennae. The overall style is that of a scientific or educational illustration.

SKIVSNÄCKA

IGEL

A detailed black and white illustration of a Hellbender (Cryptobranchus alleganiensis) resting on a rock. The creature has a long, flat body covered in dark spots and blotches. It has a large, wide head with a prominent snout and small eyes. Its skin appears rough and scaly. The background shows some foliage and a body of water.
